DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-15 in the reply filed on 3/10/2009 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a lack of unity was not properly demonstrated. This is not found persuasive because as previously discussed, the common technical feature was the process of activating the catalyst. These steps were found to be taught in the prior art, and thus a lack of unity exists. Whether or not a lack of unity is determined at the time of the PCT examination does not hold bearing upon examination at the US stage.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 16-19 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 3/10/2009.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 4-15 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend on other multiple dependent claims and multiple dependency may only be done in the alternative. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weissman, et al. (US 5,389,592).

Weissman '592 teaches a method for enhancing regenerated hydroprocessing catalysts. The active metals for these types of catalysts include those of Groups VIB and VIII, and most commonly Ni, Co, Mo, and W. (col 2, line 2-10) The process utilizes a boron containing compound as well as solvents, such as alcohols (equivalent to claimed organic additive). (claim 1) Alcohols are typically miscible in water and thus show great solubility. Alcohols have varying boiling points, including those of between 80-500°C. For example, isopropyl alcohol has a boiling point of 82.3°C. The boron containing compound may be boric acid (claim 6), thus teaching contacting the catalyst with an acid.

The crystalline fraction of the catalyst is not discussed in Weissman '592. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to perform reactivation strategies to any suitable catalysts, including either or both of crystalline or amorphous type catalysts.

Therefore, claims 1-3 are not found patentable over the prior art.
